Detailed Action

The amendment filed on 12-6-20065 has been entered.

Claims Rejection - 35 U.S.C. 102(b)

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 3 and 5-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Silver (U.S. Design Patent No. 314,722).

Silver's device shows all the claimed structure. Further, the beveled distal end of the device that is spaced from the handle of the device is capable of cutting pre-determined quantity of butter from a stick of a room temperature butter.

Claims Rejection - 35 U.S.C. 103(a)

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 9 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Silver (U.S. Design Patent No. 314,722) in view of Wentsel (U.S. Patent No. 2,948,064) and Youngberg (U.S. Patent No. 2,309,814).

Silver's measuring ruler shows the claimed limitations except it lacks the step of using the ruler for cutting a stick of butter.

Wentsel teaches the use of the beveled edge (5) of a butter ruler for cutting a stick of butter. Youngberg teaches cutting by holding the handle (3) of a butter cutter and applying a thrust cutting action to cut a stick of butter.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to modify Silver by holding the device by its handle in a downward movement as taught by Youngberg and by using the beveled edge of the device to cut a stick of butter after a desired quantity of the butter is measured as taught by Wentsel so that the butter is ready to be consumed.

Indication of Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 4 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
